REFUGEE SHIPS ARE FLOATING MAD-HOUSES

Cannibalism Feared Among Seething Masses On Bosphorus.

Constantinople, Nov. 22.—The condition of the refugees aboard the ninety or more ships strung along the Bosphorus is appalling and a terrible catastrophe is feared unless the promptest measures are taken to land the thousands who are writhing in misery and pain. The correspondent visited several of these 'floating hospitals and mad houses' today and returned to shore with forebodings of impending calamity. None of the refugees have as yet been taken ashore, excepting the sick and diseased and the insane, the latter of whom have been extremely numerous.

As the correspondent rode across the Bosphorus an unpleasant smell from the ships was apparent notwithstanding a strong, cold sea breeze. An American relief officer accompanied him.

As soon as the pair boarded the ships, the clothing of both was virtually torn off by half-maddened refugees who begged to be taken to land on the open hills which border the Bosphorus.

Men, women and children, regardless of age or sex, are herded together promiscuously on the ships day and night in a state of appalling filth and misery. Many women of distinguished demeanor despite their bedraggled appearance, offered to barter their valuables, jewels and furs for a crust of bread or a glass of water. In some cases the refugees have been without water for eleven days.

The correspondent heard that there had been numerous suicides of desperate refugees going insane during the night hours. They spoke of ghostly temptation and the sobbing call of the sea at night when they were dying with thirst. Many of the refugees were restrained from jumping overboard but many succeeded.

The American navy is assisting in transporting sick women to hospitals and the Near East Relief also has been prominent in the work. War-hardened relief nurses were moved to tears by maddened mothers offering their children to visitors and the scenes of separation have been beyond description.

The death rate has been abnormal as the result of the biting cold and the lack of food. The American Red Cross is offering 36,000 rations daily and several Americans are offering donations and subscriptions.

The French government which is in full charge of the relief work, is incapable of dealing with the situation and is appealing to the Near East Relief, whose funds are limited. The fear was expressed by the ship's officers that cases of cannibalism would occur unless food supplies are received promptly. In many cases they had to fight off maddened men from slaying children, they declared. The American hospital in Stamboul is crowded to suffocation and the American Red Cross is giving all its available medical supplies.

OHIO COUNTY BOY SERVES IN GERMANY

Dear Editor:—I just received a letter from my brother who is with the American Forces in Germany, telling me that all the A. F. in Germany had been thru a series of maneuvers lasting eighteen days and in this time they underwent conditions as are met in actual battle, such as sleeping on the ground, eating emergency rations, hiking all night, and seeking concealment at daybreak.

There was a continual rain and sometimes a driving storm which added to the discomforts of the Soldiers, and to the Veterans of Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne, a vivid remembrance was recalled of the old trying days when the real task was placed before them.

Every phase of the battle was cleverly carried out when the order to cease firing was passed down the line many a weary doughboy dropped his battle attitude, heaved a sigh of relief, thoroughly pleased that the task was ended, but failed to see or realize that he had taken part in a military maneuver that will go down in history as one unique in its entirety. Archie Hoover, enlisted with the 5th Infantry over a year ago, and has been over seas about a year. Sincerely, EDWARD HOOVER,

Boehne Camp, Evansville, Ind.

The above communication was recently received from Mr. Hoover, and each of them being so well known here we take the liberty of publishing same.

He then secured a substitute until his injury is healed. Mr. Wilson, whose home is Hartford, rooms at 414 Rose Lane.—Lexington Leader, Nov. 18.

EX-OHIO COUNTIAN WINS IN OKLAHOMA

Mr. G. W. Lewellen of Prices Chapel, adjacent to Sallisaw, Okla., who has been a successful teacher in that state for the past several years, was elected Treasurer of his County at the November election just past. The office in that state is one of importance, the Treasurer is also the collector of taxes in addition to being the custodian of the funds when collected.

Mr. Lewellen's County has been strongly Democratic, yet he won out by a decided majority, attesting the high esteem in which he is held by the people of his County. He was born and reared in Ohio County, near Magan, and has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his success.

HARTFORD HIGH WINS PAIR OF GOOD GAMES

Caneyville And Greenville Victims In Splendid Contests.

The Hartford High School Girls and Boys' Basketball Teams, each added another feather to their caps Wednesday night by defeat of the Greenville Girls and Caneyville Boys, each representing their respective High Schools. Both games were lightning fast, well played and full of thrills, but for rough stuff pulled the girls rather put it on their "Big Brothers." It's a safe bet, that those who usually complain of girl's games being too tame left the court on this occasion satisfied to the minutest point. Loubel Williams, Center for Hartford, was the brightest star in goal tossing, having made five field goals up to the middle of the last quarter, when she was forced to retire, on account of receiving a jolt knocking her down, and out, momentarily, she soon regained normalcy. Helen Barnett, forward, also did nice work, garnering four F. goals and a like number of free throws. In fact the entire team did splendidly, as did the visiting girls.

Hartford	Greenville
H. Barnett	F. H. Moore
E. Pendleton	F. L. Pannell
L. Williams	C. H. Spurlin
A. Pirtle	G. M. Morgan
K. Dodson	G. R. Brooks

Points: Barnett 4 free throws and 4 field goals; Williams 5 field goals. Spurlin 2 field goals, Moore 2, Pannell 2. The latter two also caged one free throw each.

Sallye Shults relieved Williams in the last half of the last quarter and Bessie Clark was also on the bench as a Hartford Sub., while Marjory Kevill and Ruth Green were in reserve for Greenville.

Referee, Bratcher, of Caneyville.

Caneyville suffered its first defeat of the year in their loss Wednesday night, due perhaps to the breaking up of almost every attempt at passing and dribbling. Hartford appeared to be master of the situation, after the first ten minutes of play. No scoring was done by either squad, to speak of, up to that time. Virgil Crowe was the chief point maker, having found the basket for 7 field tosses. It was a splendid exhibition from all standpoints, the best perhaps ever staged here. Line up:

V. Crowe	F. Byers
B. Ellis	F. Taylor
Robertson	C. Washburn
D. Williams	G. Burden
E. Bartlett	G. Embry

Scores: field goals, Crowe 7; Ellis 1; Robertson 2; Williams 3; free throws Ellis 7; Byers, 3; Taylor, 1; Washburn, 2; free throws, Taylor, Washburn, Burden, one each.

Subs: Hartford, M. Rhoads, H. Porter; Caneyville, Milan. Referees Bratcher, of Caneyville and Foreman, of Hartford.

HOG 7 MONTHS OLD NETTED 210 POUNDS

Mr. Thad Barnard, of Route 2, Hartford, butchered a hog this week that was exactly seven months old, weighing, net 210 pounds. This pig with others, ate nothing, or at least was given nothing to eat, thru the entire summer, other than skimmed milk and kitchen refuse. The hog was of the Berkshire and Duroc strains, crossed. When a member of the swine herd equals the weight of 210 pounds at the age of seven months, it's a sure sign that he was "some" hog.

A RARE FEAST

A rare feast was partaken of at the home of "Bud" Yeiser, Wednesday night when a great pan of juicy birds, rich gravy just slightly browned, with side trimmings, corn bread and other kinds too, but my, my! That corn bread was the sort such as can only be made by the "Bud" method. Of course this doggon, newfangled Volstead limitation was too much in evidence, but nevertheless, and notwithstanding that forlorn fact, it was voted 100 per cent perfect by Judge R. W. Slack, Henderson Murphree, Squire Leslie Combs, Frank Black, R. Phillips, Berry Rial, Mut Hunter, Tobe Hoover, Lon Smith, Rowan Holbrook and the writer. Suffrage was not extended or allowed to Bud, as it was deemed doubtful whether the vote would be unanimous, had that courtesy been granted unto him, as he was master in-chief and a sort of sentinel as the good things disappeared.

GENEVA AROUSE SUSPICION

League Assembly At Sea, As To Selfish Ends Of Japan.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—An international military force, with an international staff was proposed to the assembly of the League of Nations today by Senator Henri La Fontaine, of the Belgian delegation.

Senator La Fontaine had somewhat startled the assembly by declaring that the world was not yet ready for disarmament.

He proposed that the armaments and armies be composed in an international staff, ready to be used "in the cause of right" in such a case as arose from the present situation of Armenia.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—The first formal step looking toward the revision of the covenant of the League of Nations was taken by the assembly of the league at today's session. The British minister of foreign affairs, H. A. Van Kinnear, introduced a resolution for reconsideration of Article XXVIII having to do with the registration of treaties.

(By H. N. Riekey.)

Geneva, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—The Japanese came to this first session of the League of Nations Assembly with the evident idea of creating a great impression. They have succeeded, but not in the way that they hoped.

The impression created is that, of all the delegations, the Japanese seems to be under the most general suspicion as to its motive. This is not because of any action taken up to now but because of the quite general fear that the Japs are prepared to raise very embarrassing questions which might cause discussion in the assembly before the Assembly is old enough to absorb any sort of shock.

Exactly what the Japanese are up to even the best-informed students of Japanese diplomatic policy are unable to figure out. But all are agreed that their attempt to take and hold the center of the stage at Geneva is part of a carefully devised plan, by the Japanese, to accomplish some selfish purpose.

The Japs Storm Geneva.

It is estimated that the Japanese have two or three times as many people here as has any other nation. In addition to the three delegates who sit in the assembly they have dozens of minor officials and newspaper correspondents from every section of Japan. Of course every one of the latter is under direct influence of his government and part of the general Japanese plan, whatever it may be.

Japanese from everywhere, in fact, they have quite taken possession of the city.

Besides the hotel which they entirely occupy as their headquarters, every other hotel accommodates a number of them.

Every building that houses a Japanese displays a Japanese flag, always the biggest flag on the building.

Automobiles under Japanese charter for the duration of the conference each one flying at least one Japanese flag, fairly block traffic at congested points.

One can not walk a block or step into a cafe without meeting one or a group of correctly dressed sphinx-faced little brown men who have come half way around the world for some purpose which obviously can not be explained by their desire to further world peace.

At least, if this is their only purpose, no one here gives them credit.

Wonder What They're Up To.

One explanation is that their admission to the League of Nations on an equality with the white races has gone to their heads and affected them in the same way that newly gotten riches often affects the white man.

Another is that by this great display they hope to impress all the other Asiatic peoples with their intention to dominate the Far East.

A more widely held view is that the Japanese are determined that nothing shall be done by the assembly to return Shantung back to China, and that if this question is raised in the assembly, rather than have any action taken, they will try to break up the show by introducing the explosive subject of race equality.

It is possible, but not likely, that the Japanese are prepared to initiate the subject of race equality if they get the chance, whether or not the Shantung question comes up.

In contrast with the attitude of the Japanese, the attitude of the Chinese is increasing. The latter are as modest and unassuming as the former were bold and arrogant. The Chinese delegates and attaches have earned everybody's respect. Their chief is Wellington Koo, many years Chinese minister at Washington and a man of great ability.

Honor To Koo Elates Chinese.

Koo's election as vice chairman of Committee Number One of the Assembly, which is to deal with many highly important matters, was a great compliment to him and to the Chinese people.

It is significant that no Japanese was elected either chairman or vice chairman of one of the six committees. Each of the other three of the four great powers and three of the small powers got a chairmanship.

Count Ishii, a Japanese got one vote for chairman of one of the committees. When the Chinese newspaper men heard of Koo's election and Ishii's one vote they were wild with joy. They declared that Ishii voted for himself and that when they called this to China the whole nation would give Ishii the laugh.

League Assembly Warned.

Geneva, Nov. 20.—Although the United States is not represented by a delegate in the assembly of the League of Nations, there is hardly a session in which the United States is not referred to in some manner. The United States today had a volunteer spokesman on the speakers' stand in Newton W. Rowell, of the Canadian delegation, who warned the assembly against any policy involving interference in the internal affairs of any country.

"Canada," said Mr. Rowell, "will never consent to any such interference. You can not expect the great country to the south of Canada to become a party to the league if there is any pretension that the league can interfere in its internal affairs." Mr. Rowell was replying to a remark by Senator La Fontaine, of Belgium, that no country should have the right to monopolize the raw materials it produces.

LODGE HAS PRAISE FOR HARDING POLICY

Voices View That U. S. Can Be Made
Strong Force For Peace Interests.

Boston, Nov. 20.—With President Wilson's League of Nations dead so far as the United States is concerned, by the verdict of the great tribunal of his people, it is for the administration of President Harding and his supporters in the House and Senate to bring about some arrangement with other nations for the promotion of the world's peace without incurring dangers to our independence and our constitutional system of government, said Senator Lodge in a speech before the Roosevelt Club here tonight.

"The responsibility is very great," he continued, "but we do not shrink from it."

He said the American people, while as earnest in advancing the cause of peace as any in the world, had shown by their votes that they could best serve the cause by remaining masters of their own fate.

Senator Lodge, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, prefaced his remarks on the league by saying that he was speaking merely as a Republican basing his opinions entirely on the declarations of the party and the policies "so well and clearly outlined by the party's candidate Senator Harding in his campaign speeches."

"The Republican party in its platform," he continued, "declared its policy to be the establishment of an arrangement or agreement with foreign powers for the promotion of the world's peace. They condemned the covenant of the league brought from Paris by Mr. Wilson and approved the action of the Senate in opposing it. Mr. Cox declared that he was ready to go into the league formed by Mr. Wilson and submitted by him to the Senate. Senator Harding declared that he was opposed to going into that league. His issue was as plain as any issue could be and the people by a majority in the neighborhood of seven millions, approved the attitude and the action of Mr. Harding and of the Republican party."

GREEKS TO VOTE UPON KINGSHIP

Ballots To Decide Whether Constantine Returns To Throne.

Paris, Nov. 20.—Former King Constantine of Greece and the royal family have been formally invited to return to Greece by Premier Rallis, successor to Venizelos, the French Foreign Office announced tonight.

The invitation is interpreted as meaning Constantine will soon resume the throne. The Greek Chamber of Deputies will meet Thursday to decide the question of restoration.

Athens, Nov. 20.—The Greek people will vote November 28 on the question of the return of ex-King Constantine to the throne. The cabinet has decided for a plebiscite on this question on the date named.

Constantine has cabled to the government that he will await the result of the plebiscite before returning to Greece.

Popular Fervor Dying

Athens, Nov. 20.—Enthusiasm over the prospective return of former King Constantine seemed to be dying down in Athens today, although the topic of the dynasty is virtually the only one on the tongues of the people and dealt with by the press. The capital this evening presented a gloomy picture. Rain was falling and the silence of the street crowds seemed to indicate a sobering down of the popular fervor with the propagandists for Constantine unable, temporarily at least, to revive the fires of enthusiasm.

Meanwhile, news is being awaited as to the attitude of the French and British governments and also as to the reports that the ex-ruler will attempt to reach Greece and present to the allies the accomplished fact of his restoration.

This morning French Minister M. de Billy, when calling upon Premier Rallis, saw in the reception room a huge, newly hung portrait of Constantine in the uniform of a field marshal. M. de Billy told the premier sharply that it was a mistake to believe the allies would permit the return of the former king.

The results of the election have not yet been officially announced. It is predicted in some political quarters that any chance for a Venizelist majority will be nullified by a decision not to count the votes cast in Thrace and also those of the army.

Queen Mother Olga has issued a message to the people announcing that she was assuming the regency "in the absence of my well-beloved son, Constantine."

BIG 4 ENGINEER OUT WITH FACTS

Says Tanlac Soon Brought Back His Old Time Health And Energy—Feels Fine Now.

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with the introduction and sale of Tanlac thruout America is the very large number of railroad men who have been benefited by its use.

Prominent department officials, conductors, engineers, office clerks and, in fact, men representing practically every branch of the service, have reported that they have used Tanlac with the most surprising and gratifying results.

One of the latest to testify is E. H. Bowley, Eighth and Elberne Apartments, in Prince Hill, Cincinnati. Mr. Bowley has been in the service of the Big Four railroad as engineer for forty years and has been on his present run—pulling passengers—between Cincinnati and Chicago for the past twelve years. He is also a Commandary Mason and an active member of the Knights of Pythias, and is popular with all who know him. Mr. Bowley, in relating his experience with Tanlac, said:

"I never thought of letting my name be used in connection with a medicine, but Tanlac has helped me and I consider it well worth recommending to anyone suffering from stomach trouble and a run-down condition."

"For some time past my appetite has been very poor and I have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I was in a badly run-down condition and had that tired feeling all the time."

"Well, what I needed was just an all round building up and Tanlac has done that very thing. My appetite is so keen that I can hardly eat enough to satisfy me and I can eat what I want without feeling a touch of indigestion. I no longer have that tired, worn out feeling and am enjoying my usual good health and energy. I have found Tanlac unusually fine and am glad to give it my hearty endorsement."

Tanlac is sold in Hartford by Dr. L. B. Bean; in Beaver Dam by R. T. Taylor, Jr.; and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.—Advertisement.

HARDING SHIP HITS TROPICAL WEATHER

On board Steamship Parismina, Nov. 20.—Sailing thru a quiet sea the steamer Parismina with President-elect Warren G. Harding and his party aboard tonight approached the half-way mark in her voyage from

New Orleans to Panama, where the first stage in Mr. Harding's vacation trip will be reached.

Except for the light rain and moderate wind which practically always is expected in the neighborhood of the Yucatan Channel fair weather favored the distinguished passenger and he spent most of the day on deck walking, reading and playing ship games.

Mrs. Harding remained in her stateroom during today on advice of her physician. It was explained she was not ill, and that her appetite continued good, she was just in need of rest after the excitement of the campaign, the trying Texas experiences and the almost overwhelming welcome accorded the party in New Orleans.

The Parismina left the Gulf of Mexico, and went into the green waters of the Yucatan Channel with its cross-currents, choppy winds and occasional rains, about noon today, passing close to the western tip of Cuba. In the afternoon real tropical heat was encountered and most of those aboard changed to duck and linen apparel.

A picture show featured the night's entertainment program.

G. O. P. VICTORY COST HIM $5.

Willie Jackson, resident of Washington city, a gentleman of color and yet a Democrat, tried to evade the effects of the Republican landslide by "drowning" his sorrow in "forbidden fruit juice." After his arrest for drunkenness he declared to the court that he was a Democrat and asked the judge whether he was likewise a Democrat. Upon receiving a negative reply Jackson said: "Well, you can't understand a-tall. I took that drink to drown my sorrow and I got forgettin'ly drunk." Willie was given his choice of a $5 fine or five days on the inside of a government institution.

NAVY TO SELL VESSELS.

The government has placed on the market five old warships and 25 miscellaneous vessels for which the navy department has no further use. All money received from the sale will be turned over to the treasury department as a refund for war expenditures. The vessels are expected to bring in $1,000,000.

SUGAR RESTRICTIONS REMOVED

JAPANESE RESENT ALIEN LAND LAW

Engage Best Legal Talent And Promise Fight To Last Ditch.

San Francisco, Nov. 26.—The people of California, having by overwhelming majority directed the Legislature to pass a more rigid anti-alien land law to prevent encroachments of Japanese, are now preparing to withstand a determined attempt at nullification thru the supreme courts of the state and nation.

Scarcely had the returns been counted before various Japanese organizations announced their intention of starting court action to test the legality of the new law.

Meetings are scheduled by the Japanese Exclusion League with members of California's congressional delegation. Immediately following this gathering the executive committee of the Japanese Association of America will meet here, representing 300,000 Japanese in the West.

At this latter meeting a definite program of action will be laid. The Japanese will not only attempt to "cut them" the effectiveness of the new law limiting Japanese land occupancy in California to those now on the land, but from now on will wage a determined campaign at Washington for the passage of favorable national legislation.

Fighting the Japanese at every turn, the Exclusion League, thru their leader, Senator James D. Phelan, will introduce legislation at Washington placing Japanese definitely within the "barred zone" now excluding all other Asiatics.

John P. Irish, of Oakland, foremost white champion of the Japanese cause, has announced that as soon as the law has been proclaimed by the secretary of state, he will lease some of his property near Stockton to a Japanese and have the lease recorded. This will be the beginning of an action to test the legality of the law.

Provisions Of Treaty Involved

Other cases will be thrown into court immediately by other Japanese organizations of America. It is reported that a huge amount of money has been raised by the Japanese and that the highest legal talent in the nation will be employed.

The case of H. Sumida, brought by the attorney general of California in the Visalia County Courts, to test the 1913 law, will be fought thru the highest courts. Until these two cases have been decided no action will be taken directly against the initiative law.

Another action is to be started immediately by the New World, a Japanese language newspaper published here, for an injunction to prevent the application of the new law on the grounds that it does not mention the Japanese.

The fight will be around the two phrases, "aliens who are eligible to citizenship" and "aliens who are not eligible to citizenship," it being contended that the phrases are vague and indefinite.

The New World has sent out an appeal to every Japanese to stand ready to assist in the "valiant battle in a righteous war."

The association will not await the result of the conference now under way in Washington between Secretary of State Coby and Ambassador Shidehara, but will proceed irrespective of any action taken by these officials.

Resentment against the proposed action of the Japanese is expressed by State Controller John S. Chambers, who says:

"The controversy in California has been carried on to date with remarkable restraint. If, however, the Japanese, who call themselves a proud race, shall impudently seek to overthrow the will of the electors of the sovereign state of California, then bitterness will develop, and on their own heads must rest the responsibility for the result."

Neuralgia of the face, shoulder, hands, or feet requires a powerful remedy that will penetrate the flesh. Ballard's Snow Liniment possesses that power. HOG ISLAND PLANT BIDS LOW

The U. S. shipping board has rejected two bids, the highest a trifle over $4,000,000, for the huge government shipbuilding plant at Hog Island on the Delaware. As the taxpayers of the country put $70,000,000 in the project it is likely that the plant will be retained unless a fairer figure can be secured for it.

The Thanksgiving.

By Eugene C. Dolson.

Work of the harvest ended,
Now, as the year grows old,
Granaries overflowing,
Full as the bins can hold.

Peace and plenty surround us—
Each has a bounteous share;
Thanks to the fertile farmlands,
Opulence everywhere.

Thanks to the sturdy toiler,
Answering duty's call;
Thanks to the gracious Giver,
Infinite Lord of all.

Brothers, once more united,
Brothers from far away,
Each of us yet remembers
This—our Thanksgiving Day!

WITH THE DAY'S WORK DONE

Thanksgiving Day May Be Likened to
the Beginning of a Long and Pleasant Evening.

As each Thanksgiving day approaches it becomes more and more apparent to those who are in the habit of meditating upon affairs in general that the spirit of the occasion is one to inspire individual sensation, and that expression of that sensation falls short of the mark.

There is in the Thanksgiving season a sort of benign pause to the energies of the year, a subconsciousness of filled granaries and of hay, packed in the barn loft, the cattle crunching in the stalls, and the drapery of the trees laid by for the approaching winter. It is the twilight of the year; the chores are done and the men folks come stamping at the doorstep. The dinner is steaming on the table and soon, the food eaten, we will settle down for the long evening.

It has been a big day. The men folks have finished a mighty harvest in Europe and come home. We give thanks for those that come home because they are the living symbols of the nation's courage; and for those that will not come again save in the spirit, for they have been transfigured in the flame of the great conflict.

And there will be our thanks for the stout hearts of American mothers who bore in silence and fortitude the burdens of their agonies; for these are the symbols of the nation's devotion to pure ideals.

HIS THANKSGIVING WISH

Boy—Jenny, I'd like to be round dead wild dat whole turkey in me stomach an' dat bill o' mine for a tombstone!

Thanksgiving Time.

When brimming barns reward the work-filled year,
When fuel-piles and bins bring indoor cheer,
When life and health have clung to those we love,
The normal human heart will look above
And thank a blessed Source for what He sends
In basket, store and intercourse with friends.

When through another year our nation's soul
Has triumphed, though the war-waves madly roll;
When in our lives still live the patriot fires
To fan the which each loyal heart aspires;
When we all unashamed can face the world
And Stars and Stripes unblemished are unfurled—

Then and then always shall we deem it meet
To send aloft a prayer as incense sweet
For grateful hearts to feel and tongues to say
Feelings and words that fit Thanksgiving Day.
Sing on! God's goodness never can be told—

"The good die young," for good cannot grow old!

Who sees our theme and grimly sners "Old Stuff.")

If we kept count of our blessings,
every day would be a Thanksgiving day.

HAS BEEN CHANGE

Oldtimer Talks of Past Thanksgiving Days.

Thinks Religious Character of Celebration Not So Generally Dwelt On as It Was—Grandma's Pies.

"Thanksgiving weather may be the same as it always has been," said the gray-haired, young-looking man. "My own recollection is that I used to go skating almost every year on that day, but the weather bureau insists that the climate has not changed and I don't dispute the point.

"But one thing I'm sure of—Thanksgiving day is not generally celebrated now as it used to be when I was a boy. For one thing, I don't believe many people have family prayers on that day, or any other, for that matter, but 50 years ago it was a very irreligious family indeed who did not hold a special Thanksgiving service of that kind.

Like Grandma Used to Make.

"Thanksgiving meals were things to remember. Those were the 'good old days' when doughnuts were made as big as bricks, and 'twas not thought necessary to eat as many as six, but the doughnut came between meals, and on Thanksgiving day they were not greatly in demand.

"For breakfast we always had chicken with many 'fixins' and pancakes and sweet cider for dessert. It was a meal for all day, but not long after noon we all gathered for the feast, and it was a small family that did not muster at least twenty strong. We all went home to grandma's, the last one of us. Commonly every living member of four generations would be together for that day, no matter how scattered their homes might be.

"After dinner there'd be enough outdoor sport to raise an appetite for six o'clock supper, and after supper indoor games among the young people till bedtime, but even the oldest were dragged into the games until they were tired out.

"There may be families that keep up the old customs even yet, but I wouldn't know where to look for them. Even if I did, I don't suppose I'd be able to get any of the mince and pumpkin pies. And if I should get any of them they wouldn't be such as grandma used to make."

THANKSGIVING AT ITS BEST

City Boys and Girls Don't Make as Much of the Day as Do Their Country Cousins.

The joys of Thanksgiving are not partaken in the fullness thereof by many city boys and girls. They simply know that it is a holiday, when the pleasures and trials of school life are temporarily laid aside, when churches are open for those who want to return devout thanks for the manifold blessings with which they may have been showered, and when the lauder fairly means with uncommon delicacies.

It is in the country that the manifold blessings of Thanksgiving day reach their full fruition. It is not a mere episode there, as it is in the city, but an event that is anxiously looked forward to for weeks before it dawns. In its celebration it differs from the ways of the city as widely as does day from night. In the thickly populated towns the religious aspect of the holiday has been lost sight of to a great extent, and in its place there has grown up the habit of feasting and making merry. It is a time for family gatherings, for balls, for football, for theatricals and the thousand and one pleasures city life is beset with.

SEIZE FIVE STILL IN APARTMENT HOUSE

Youngstown, Nov. 26.—Five stills were found in a four-story apartment house at 1970 Marble Street, here, by Safety Director David Scott and Deputy Sheriff Smith.

Three of the stills were being operated in full blast when the raid was made. The officials seized the stills together with about 500 gallons of raisin mash and about four gallons of raisin jack.

This alleged illicit distillery was the largest one found, so far, in Mahoning County since national prohibition became effective.

Accused of operating a still, Felix Wozovick, 22, was arrested. Besides the stills and mash three gas ranges were confiscated.

The stills are made of the best grade of copper, are of large capacity and modern type.

The officials discovered a secret passageway evidently intended for use in emergency cases, affording a hiding place in the cellar for illegal goods.

COLOR-BLINDNESS

No fewer than fifty-five persons in every thousand are more or less color-blind. The commonest form is not, as many suppose, inability to distinguish red and green—that affects one person in fifty-five. The most usual symptom is uncertainty between blue and green. This is experienced by one out of every forty-six persons but only one in sixty is unable to distinguish between brown and green.

Color-blindness is more common among educated than uneducated people, and an odd fact is that musicians are more liable to this affliction than those of any other class or profession.

Another curious fact about color-blindness, discovered while in a field of poppies, that beyond a range of thirty yards the scarlet flowers and the greenery merged into a neutral tint and were lost.

totally unable to do so at a distance. There is the case of a lady who could match silks with perfect accuracy, and yet was unable at a distance to recognize a red coat or a railway danger signal, and of a man who without any other trace of color-blindness, discovered while in a field of poppies, that beyond a range of thirty yards the scarlet flowers and the greenery merged into a neutral tint and were lost.

FRIDAY.....NOVEMBER 26

It was the other way round yesterday, both the christian and the unchristian joined in a slaughter of the "Turks."

A mass meeting for the farmers of Ohio county is projected for Saturday, tomorrow, afternoon at 1 o'clock,
at this place. The object is to bring
as many of the farmers as possible
into the Farm Bureau, which as we understand federates with other organization of the agricultural classes.
There can be no doubt of the fact that farmers should organize, as intelligent organization is good for the farmers in a thousand different ways.
By unanimous, or collective action
much may be accomplished, not alone,
or so much, by securing fair prices
merely, but by community action and
co-operation, exchange of ideas, comparing results and in fact, by ways
almost innumerable. Farmers should take advantage of the opportunity offered, not only of this, but every other one. Then too, an institute of two days duration is scheduled for Ohio county, at Hartford,
on the 10th and 11th of next month,
which is primarily for the farmers'
benefit, his uplift and advancement.
No progressive farmer who can attend without unreasonable sacrifice is necessary, should be absent from this institute. Only the non-progressive and stand-still, or retrograding farmer will for a moment claim that these meetings are not worth while. Let everyone who can possibly do so arrange to be on hands
and get a bit of all the good that otherwise must go to waste.

Thanksgiving, like Christmas day,
according to our manner of thought,
is not observed exactly as the day
should be, nor as was intended we should. The occasion is one of the most generally observed as a holiday,
but comparatively few people perhaps, really make of it a day for offering thanks to the Ruler of providence, or the King of the Universe,
for bounteous crops, success in life
and business, or that it is as well with them as it is, or perchance we should return our thanks that it is no worse with us than it is. We do not forget to observe the date by taking it as a holiday from our labors, and, instead of in any way centering our thoughts upon Deity in a truly thankful spirit, the great majority are rather prone to make of it a day for riotous eating and drinking. At least the latter was once the course.
Bowls of egg-nog, mint jupils, Tom
and Jerry and various other tempting liquids were freely indulged in, but as a matter of course this nearly bone-dry, Volstead system has practically eliminated the noggs etc., from the day's doings, and aside from the enforced abstinence, the day yesterday, was spent in about the usual
and customary manner—those who were not compelled to follow their usual avocations, that is, all but com-paritively few, wound up at night in a rather gorged condition and never,
for once, seriously thought of being thankful to any agency for any possession, either individually or collectively. It is true that special Thanksgiving services were held in many churches throuout the country yesterday, as was the case here, when a union service was conducted, but the great masses never find their way in-
to these places of service upon the only day of the year publically set apart for rendering our thanks for the good received during the past three-hundred and sixty-five days.

"BIG THREE" SNUBBED FOCH

In the first heart-to-heart talk
Marshal Foch has given to the public

since the war, he says that he was profoundly displeased with the peace treaty as framed by the allied peace conference in Paris. He believed that the military victory should have been made more complete, but when he expressed his views he was practically told by Messrs. Wilson, Clemenceau and Lloyd-George to "shut up," he declares.

FRENCH VIEWS OF ELECTION

Paris newspapers agreed that the big majority for Harding in the recent election meant the defeat of the league of nations and the Wilson program. La Liberte said "American common sense has condemned Utopia
in all its forms. From an international point of view the American election day was a bad day for socialism and the society of nations
the consequences of which will be felt throughout the world." The Intran-sigant points out that Harding has often professed friendship for France
and it thinks that he will not relinquish the traditions that bind the New World and France.

JUDGE LANDIS TO SERVE THIRTY-ONE YEARS MORE

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Judge K. M.
Landis took the joy out of life for a lot of bootleggers today when he announced that he was not going to retire from the federal bench until he is 85 years old. That will be thirty-one years from now. He was 54 today.

He celebrated his birthday by playing a round of golf.

"I'm not going to climb off the bench until I'm 85 years old," he said. I'm afraid a lot of people around Chicago will be disappointed.
Most of my family lingered around until they were 85 or 95, and I am going to follow their example."

head of reorganized baseball at a salary of $2,500 a year. He is now holding both jobs.

STRAY STREAKS

today as they did this day a week
ago.

I wouldn't like for Miss Porter to ful to be married to Alec? Yes, even by a sham ceremony.

It's a queer way about how some guys get such strange ideas. No less than a half-dozen of those birds
who assumed the character of "Poor Relatives" in the Womanless Wedding at the Court house last night,
came to my house to borrow clothes
in which to garb themselves for the occasion.

Uncle Clem Moxley, of Fordsville,
was in town Monday and he solemnly
averts that he is steadily and rapidly growing better looking every day of his life, and that if he and John Henry Thomas were placed on exhibition, in contest, Thomas would occupy the position, in comparison, as a stinking, dark, foggy night to bright,
noon-day's sunshine.

Since Bat Nall, by some hook or crook, induced that good woman to marry him he has been so dadgummed scarce around this office that we are beginning to really like him,
tho for Miss Nall's sake we hope he ain't puttin in all the time at home
he isn't about this joint.

We would be willing to wager two bits that I. D. Claire has located a worm attached to a still, and has entwined himself around the fruits of the combination—it's been too long since he's been heard from. Moths will have soon destroyed the famous quill with which he was wont to string his odd beads. Down with the till and up with the quill.

We received a communication from our old friend W. W. Harris, the telephone man, now of Mt. Carmel, Ill., a few days ago in which he specially inquired as to whether A. Rial was still putting out the same little-bitty sacks of popcorn for a nickel. Harris swears that the vendor of popcorn in his town sells sacks twice as big as Rial does for a jitney. We say down with high prices and profiteering.

At prayer meeting service at one of the local churches recently the Minister appointed a certain Sister
to read a certain portion of Luke,
I think it was, and perhaps that portion comparing to the 15th chapter,
but it seems that she was reading
from one of those old style bibles
that were not divided up by chapters,
such as is commonly in use. She read and read, and then read some more,
until most of those present could hardly sit still, when she finally came to the word "Hades" when a momentary halt was made. The Pastor seeing his chance threw up his hands,
saying, "I think you have gone far enough Sister, stop right there." Those who didn't smile were either too
sound asleep or absent.

Some Prices Are Gradually Being Lowered. And This is What This Store is Doing to Help:

Without any great noise or publicity, and regardless of the cost to this store and the loss to it, we are giving to our patrons at once the advantages of a changing wholesale market. And this regardless of the fact that such wholesale quotations have not in the least affected the cost to us of the merchandise in our store, which, of course, was bought months prior to its sale.

This is no special sale. It is simply a reduction in the prices of merchandise affected by present wholesale conditions. For instance: You can count upon this store to continue to faithfully fulfill its promises of service, and to sacrifice, if necessary for the benefit of its patrons.

You can depend upon this store to meet its responsibility of providing the best merchandise at prices that are the lowest the market conditions warrant—lower than you will find them in a majority of cities.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Inter-care of the Garden.

A very common practice in the State of Kentucky is to leave the garden perfectly bare during the winter months. The Department of Horticulture of the College of Agriculture recommends that every farmer should clean off the trash and rubbish and sow some cover crop, such as rye. It is rather late in the season for this but the old adage holds that "It is better late than never." The objection raised to doing this is that they have to store a few vegetables in a pit and usually a very common place to make this pit is in the center of the garden. So far as making a pit is concerned it would be convenient to have it in the garden; but it is far better to take it outside of the garden and sow some cover crop so that something can be plowed under in the spring and help furnish humus to the garden soil.

Soy-Beans Make a Good Cash Crop

Lexington, Ky. Nov. 22.—With unfavorable prospects for such enormous returns from tobacco, the soybean is coming into prominence as a cash crop in Kentucky. The Agronomy Department of the College of Agriculture says that the Haberlandt soybean seems to be the one that is displacing all the other medium and early varieties in this state, and since there is a great demand for these Haberlandt beans for planting in the cornbelt states that cannot be supplied, Kentucky should produce more soybeans for seed. From the nature of her soils and seasons, Kentucky seems to be ideally located as a center for the production of soy bean seed for the corn belt states.

Brood Sows Should Be Carefully Selected.

Lexington, Ky. Nov. 22.—The College of Agriculture recommends that considerable care should be given in selecting sows for breeding purposes. Records show that on the average sows will farrow and raise more and better pigs in the second and subsequent litter than they do the first. Since this is true it is usually a mistake to kill the mature sows that have raised good litters unless there is some good reason for discarding her.

It is well to study the individual very carefully before deciding to breed her, and when she has raised a good litter she should be further developed and retained. After the first litter of pigs are weaned the sow will make an easy and fairly rapid gain if properly fed and should continue in growth and weight right up to the time she farrows the second litter.

Considering the present price of corn even the pork has dropped in price, the average farmer will do well to produce a reasonable quantity of hogs.

Select and Care For Your Seed Corn.

Lexington, Ky. Nov. 22.—In the spring of 1918 the farmers of Kentucky experienced an extreme shortage in seed corn. The College of Agriculture urges at this time that the farmers will prepare to take care of their seed corn so that they will at least bring thru the winter what they have already saved. If seed corn has already been selected in the field, it should receive good care thru the winter in order that it will properly develop when planted next spring. Usually not more than one-half of the ears selected at first will come up to the desired standard after they have dried out. Since this is true it is necessary to save much more than will be needed for planting in order that it can be carefully selected next spring.

Many tests of two lots of seed which appears alike when gathered have shown that where one of them is promptly dried and properly kept dry during the winter, the other left in the crib, that the seed receiving good care will give considerable increase the following year. This increased yield has been brought about due to the prompt drying and better care through the winter. In one case 400 ears were divided into two equal parts; one being well taken care of and the other placed in the barn where corn is ordinarily kept. The following year the well cared for seed gave a yield on poor soil of 12 per cent more than the seed that was left out of the crib, which yielded 27 per cent on the fertile soil, notwithstanding the fact that both lots of seed germinated equally well.

It is possible to select seed corn in the fall, leave it out in the barn or crib where it will be exposed to the change of weather and have this corn germinate well the next spring; but this should not be taken as sufficient evidence that leaving the corn in the crib over winter is a good thing. There is more to good seed than simply germination, as the germ may still be alive so that it will germinate; but by poor treatment through the winter may be so damaged that it will never develop into a good stock capable of producing two or three ears the following season.

Seed corn should be dried as soon as it is selected and placed in a granary or attic where it will not be subjected to the sudden change of temperature found in Kentucky during the winter.

RAILROADS A BURDEN.

At the present rate the treasury department is paying the people's money to the railroad operators at the rate of over a billion dollars a year. For the six months following the "unscrambling," or turning back to private owners, of the railroads, the government will hand out $656,000,000, according to the interstate commerce commission. Blame is put on high wages granted the workers by the railroad board. For the first eight months of this year operating expenses amounted to $3,760,000,000 as against $2,800,000,000 for the same period in 1919. Against this, operating revenues amounted to only $550,000,000 more than in the previous year. For August 1919 the net revenue from operation was $112,000,000 while for August 1920 there was a deficit of nearly $124,000,000.

PHILADELPHIA EXPOSITION

Prominent citizens of the Quaker city are formulating plans for a great international exposition in their city in 1926 commemorating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the declaration of independence. Congress will be asked for funds to guarantee the success of the undertaking.

SCHOOL DISPUTES SETTLED BY FIGHTS

A new method is said to be proving a success in a Chicago school in cases where school children agree to disagree to the extent that trouble is brewing. In this particular school 22 nationalities are represented and the principal, Miss A. M. Hogge, says: "Letting the boys fight out their troubles is the best way in a school such as ours. Of course the fights must be fair. I never permit any serious injuries. A black eye or two is usually the limit." At the latest quarrel Miss Hogge acted as second to both combatants and also referee. Time was called at intervals to enable the combatants to rest and rinse out their mouths. The "bully" of the school was licked, which the referee said was a good thing. "The superintendent of schools declared Miss Hogge's method the most successful ever tried in that school and he is heartily in favor of it."

SCORES MODERN CITY AS EDITION OF PAGANISM

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—"A modern city is a new edition of paganism." This characterization was made by the Rev. John F. Grimes, local Methodist Episcopal clergyman, sermonizing on "The World Confusion in the Present Hour."

"There is no Sabbath," he continued.

"The show houses are crowded and the churches neglected."

"Commercialism has crowded the churches to the suburbs and the renting agitator raves from a soap box on the corner where the church stood."

"The immigrant of today comes only to capitalize for himself whatever America has to offer and has no sympathy for our laws and our institutions."

PASQUALE "THE CRANK" GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 20.—August Pasqual, alias Pasquale, "the crank" in the Coughlin kidnapping case, was sentenced to life imprisonment this morning by Judge Swartz, in Norristown Court. Pasqual pleaded guilty at his trial to second degree murder and kidnapping for extortion. He stole Blakely Coughlin, the 13-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, from their home near Norristown on June 2, last, and smothered the infant under his coat. He was sentenced on the kidnapping charge and sentence was suspended on the second degree murder charge.

FOUR-LEGGED ROOSTER STRUTS IN BARNYARD

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—Now the four-legged rooster!

With four perfectly-shaped legs, a full-grown rooster is parading the barnyard of H. H. Burres, of Harris, Mo., according to a letter written by Burres to Superintendent of Parks W. H. Dunn, offering to sell the rooster to the Swope Park Zoo.

Dunn said the offer would be declined as the city does not desire any freak animals in the zoo.

MOTHER PUTS BABY ON RED HOT STOVE

New York, Nov. 20.—After she had been arrested accused of placing her 7-months-old boy on a red hot stove, Mrs. Grace Randall told the Brooklyn police tonight that her husband, whom she loves "better than anything else in the world," had treated her coolly since the child was born.

The child, taken from the top of a stove by police whom neighbors summoned, may die from its burns, hospital physicians said. The husband is serving a sentence in jail.

CONVICT SILENT 10 YEARS

Twenty-five years ago J. P. Hanley was committed to the Massachusetts state prison for stealing $84 worth of shoes. He made several attempts to escape and was also discovered in a counterfeiting scheme, for which his prison sentence was prolonged. Because a fellow-convict revealed to the warden a plan for escape which Hanley had communicated to him in secret, Hanley began a speech-fast and has not said a word for 10 years. When he was released the other day he found that he had lost the power of speech and he could communicate only in writing.

"THEY SAID I HAD T. B. AND WOULD NOT LIVE THREE MONTHS"

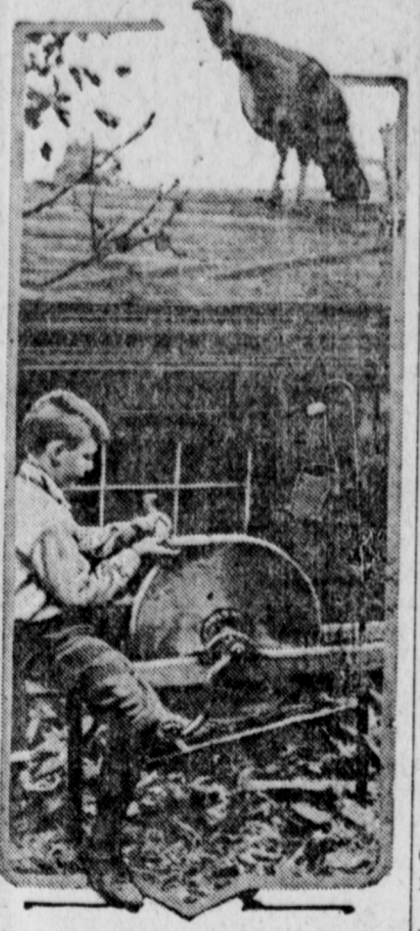

Mr. Harold W. Schmidt, Box 88, Breese, Clinton Co., Ill., believes he has reason to praise Dr. Hartman's Remedy for Catarrhal conditions.

"I used Pe-ro-na eight months for Chronic Bronchial Catarrh. I do not get tired, feel like a giant, am six pounds over normal weight and able to work every day. In March, 1918, I contracted a severe cold with gurgling and took to my bed. They said I had T. B. and would not live three months. After taking a couple bottles of Pe-ro-na and a box of Man-dia Tablets, could walk around and in seven months went back to work. My trouble was due to Chronic Catarrh of the nose and throat, which I had ten years, extending down into the bronchial tubes. Pe-ro-na was my life saver."

OLD TALE RETOLD

Origin of the American Thanksgiving Day.

Will Bear Repetition Annually as Something of Which Every Citizen May Be Proud.

The ancient Thanksgiving did not, as some have fancied, skip down the ages to find its home in America. In one way or another it seems to have always been observed. Throughout Europe, before the Reformation, special days were set apart as days of religious thanksgiving. The American Thanksgiving day is traced back to the Pilgrims.

Shortly after the landing of the Pilgrims, while searching for a suitable place in which to build their homes, they one day came upon some deserted Indian huts, in which they found some baskets filled with corn. From this supply they succeeded in saving enough to plant their first year's crop.

In the spring of 1621 the seed corn was sown and its growing watched anxiously by the people of the little colony. To their great joy, the harvest of the following October was a bountiful one. Governor Bradford ordered a three days' feast in celebration thereof. Wild turkeys, geese, ducks and water fowl, corn bread and vegetables no doubt formed the chief constituents of their feast, not to speak of the five deer brought in by a tribe of friendly Indians.

This festival is supposed to be the first real Thanksgiving day from which we date our celebration. This celebration, although without doubt the origin of our national Thanksgiving day, may be looked upon as merely a local observance, being held by the Plymouth colony only. They were the forerunners of less local celebrations in Massachusetts and gradually in other colonies, for in 1630 a public Thanksgiving day was observed in Boston by the Lay colony, and again in 1631.

During the next fifty years there were as many as 22 public Thanksgiving days appointed in Massachusetts, usually in October or November, after the gathering in of the harvest, or to celebrate some public benefit. It did not become a regular holiday until a long time afterward.

In 1789 Washington issued the famous Thanksgiving proclamation recommending Thursday, November 26, as a national day to be devoted to prayer and Thanksgiving. Washington's example was followed by other Presidents.

In 1863 President Lincoln appointed the fourth Thursday in November as the national Thanksgiving day. Since then the day has been observed annually without interruption.

THANKSGIVING

REFLECT UPON YOUR PRESENT BLESSINGS. OF WHICH EVERY MAN WAS PAWY; NOT ON YOUR PAST MISFORTUNES, OF WHICH ALL MEN HAVE SOME.

A Day of Nature.

Thanksgiving day is our one national festival that turns on home life. It is not a day of ecclesiastical saints. It is not a patriotic anniversary. It is not a day celebrating a religious event. It is a day of nature. It is a day of thanksgiving for the year's history. And it must pivot on the household. Remember God's bounty brought the year. String the pearls of His goodness. Give this one day to thanks, to joy, to gratitude. Henry Ward Beecher.

John's Thanksgiving.

By Willis Brooks.
John Eddy shamed the laggard night,
So early was his day begun.
He breakfasted by candle light,
And toiled afield till set of sun.
Then by the glow a lantern shed
His cows were milked, his stock
was fed,
And all his evening chores were done
Before he tumbled into bed.

One autumn morning, on his way,
The parson stopped and urged
him so
To come to church Thanksgiving
Day
That John at last resolved to go.
But to the parson's deep regret,
He still denied Creation's debt.
"What thanks," said John, "do farmers owe
For working hard for all they get?"

In church that day John Eddy dreamed
He saw the sun in splendor rise,
Yet from a thankless world, it seemed,
No welcome went to greet the
skies;
No chirping insect voice was raised;
The birds in heedless silence
gazed;
And there, before his wondering
eyes,
A morning came unsung, unpraised.

Then rolling thunder shook the land:
"Ungrateful world!" it seemed to
say;
And from above a mighty hand
Swept down and bore the sun
away.
Too late the field and forest vied
In pleading song; in vain they cried
For one sweet hour of blessed
day,
Which tardily they glorified.

John Eddy, waking, spoke as one
Who entertained a novel thought:
"How little man himself has done!
How much for him has Nature
wrought!
What lavish gifts of sun and showers
Thanksgiving comes, or come it ought,
To fructify the field and flower!
Not once a year, but every hour."

WHY GIVE THANKS

Manifold Blessings Accorded to
This Nation.

Surely One Needs Only a Few Moments' Reflection to Realize the Causes for Gladness.

It is written of Plato that, "looking through the dim spectacles of nature,
he gave thanks to God for three things: First, that he was created a man and not a beast. Second, that he was born a Grecian and not a barbarian. Third, that he was born a possible philosopher."

If this represents the pagan ideal of gratitude, it is in marked contrast to the Christian ideal. A boastful spirit has no place in true thanksgiving to God. The Pharisee who went up to the temple to pray and thanked God
that he was not as other men, was roundly rebuked by Christ for his presumption. The last place for one to display his egotism should be before the throne of God. "Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister," said Christ. It is a time for true humility of spirit.

Now that this nation has grown rich
beyond the dreams of the austere
pioneers, do Americans of today recognize the source of their manifold blessings, and will they with true humility acknowledge their gratitude to the giver of all good gifts, "forgetting not all his benefits?"

America is today the richest and most powerful nation of the earth, and it is this very opulence that leads the people, most liberally blessed of all, to neglect to remember the source of good. In days of opulence and power men are prone to put their trust in themselves and to underestimate those influences that have made them great.
Ingratitude has been called the most popular sin in the world, because it is the result of selfishness, or egotism
or ambition or whatever the case may be. Nations, being an aggregation of individuals, in their days of power
have a tendency to trust in themselves
and to disregard the laws of God.—
Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Joys to Come.

The pudding bubbled in the pot,
The turkey in the oven
Puffed up so high; the pumpkin pie
Cried out, "Hey, stop your shovin'!"
The taters in the saucepan
Danced a jig against the lid.
Cranberries popped and skipped and hopped
And sauced the rest—they did.
The kitchen then was all a-
humming;
The kettles all a-humming;
No wonder—boy and girl alive!
Thanksgiving dinner's coming!

A SONG FOR THANKSGIVING

Summer is gone,
Autumn is here;
This is the harvest
For all the year.

Corn in the crib, oats in the bin,
Wheat is thrashed, barley drawn in:

Apples are barreled, nuts laid to dry;
Frost in the garden, winter is nigh.

Father in Heaven, thank Thee for all.
Winter and springtime, summer and fall.

LET ALL REJOICE

Taking Courage From the Spirit of the Pilgrims.

Surely the People of Today Have
More Causes for Thankfulness
Than They Possessed.

To us it certainly seems as though
the Pilgrims had little to be thankful for. If the settlers in Plymouth could "sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving" in 1621, what, pray, ought we to do in this year of our Lord? Think of the blessings which we enjoy as of the commonplaces of the day, of which the Pilgrims never even dreamed! A vast territory mastered, surveyed and thickly settled—abundant treasures of farm, mine, forest and mill poured out
for human uses—Innumerable inventions harnessed to the service of human efficiency and comfort—a great republic "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men
are created equal"—free political, educational and religious institutions,
hitherto unknown and unparalleled,
successfully established—a higher grade of material well being, a wider diffusion of culture, a nobler ideal of happiness, a finer conception of democracy, achieved for all the people,
than the world has ever seen before! It is true, of course, that not all ills
have been suppressed, nor all blessings
won. But because we have not yet achieved everything is no reason why we should not be glad that we have achieved much! Because we have not yet won the goal of life is no reason why we should not rejoice that we have advanced! The world today is better than it ever has been before.
Men have less suffering, greater happiness and nobler opportunity than in any epoch past. Humanity is still fighting the same persistent ills and seeking the same elusive goods, but
in new fields and on higher levels.
The goal still lies far ahead, but behind is a long road of miseries conquered and battles won.

A Thanksgiving Offering From a Grateful Heart

Lord, we who set the furrow deep,
And sow the seeds of industry,
For the rich guerdon that we reap
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who make the anvils ring,
Who rive and weld laboriously,
For all the wage our labors bring
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who watch the spindles
ply,
The shuttles flying dizzily,
For every boon our efforts buy
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who build with busy hand
Of wood or stone unceasingly,
For whatsoever our arts command
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who delve in under-earth
Far from Thy sunlight fair and
free,
For whatsoever we win of worth
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we who hoist the straining
sail,
And plow the green waves of the sea,
For what our stormy tasks avail
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we the toilers of the brain,
Who clutch at dreams that cling
or flee,
For whatsoever heights we gain
Give thanks to Thee!

Lord, we Thy children, small and
great,
Beneath Thy care, where'er it be,
The while Thy grace we supplicate,
Give thanks to Thee!
—Clinton Scollard, in the Outlook.

Therefore, Give Thanks.

Thanks to the providence of God as it has worked in history and to the work of brave men who believed they were children of God, the petty colonies are now one nation. Of that nation the meanest citizen, the most foolish, the weakest and the poorest, has every right and privilege before the law which belongs to the strongest,
the richest and the wisest, though he were born in the purple of luxury.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK

Turkey: I'm
afraid they're
feeding me too
well. Thanksgiving must be coming.

Thanksgiving.

By T. C. Harbaugh.

In the twilight of November,
With its foliage of gold,
Comes again the glad Thanksgiving
Blest with customs dear and old;
And beneath the starry banner
As it floats from sea to sea,
We a happy people gather,
Fears at rest, for all are free.

Not a hand in all the nation,
In the East or in the West,
Bars the mansion or the cottage
To the glad Thanksgiving guest:
From the balmy, kindly Southland
To the nodding pines of Maine,
Nature, filled with joy and triumph,
Spreads her annual feast again.

We are thankful for the blessings
That have crowned our cherished land—
Fruitful orchards, golden harvests,
Peace and love from strand to strand;
'Neath November's robes of beauty
Hidden lies the warrior's sword,
And the olive branch is hanging
O'er the nation's festal board.

Aye, from mountain unto mountain
'Neath the Union's starry dome
To the feast we spread this autumn
Bid the absent welcome home;
Round the board where all are merry
Let the brightest sunlight play;
With the love-key of Thanksgiving
Open every heart today.

Hail the hallowed Thanksgiving
Which the Pilgrim Fathers gave;
'Tis their legacy forever
On the land and on the wave;
Then, as Freedom's chosen people,
We our destiny fulfill.
May the Future's sweet Thanksgivings Find us grander, greater still.

PEOPLE MUST HAVE TURKEY

Always Willing to Pay High Prices for the Chief Feature of Thanksgiving Dinner.

New York spends about $3,000,000
on its Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey as its chief feature. The dealers say if it cost a dollar per pound
they would sell just about as many.
Turkey on Thanksgiving is traditional
in America, and the farmer knows it.
He fattens his best birds and saves
them for this day. Without realizing it the farmer thus corners the market until the price gets high enough.
Then he sells. But the people will have their turkey and this year the dealers expect a greater demand than ever, although they are selecting smaller birds in order to meet it.

The great part of the city's turkey
supply comes from the Middle West—Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Maryland and Kentucky send large consignments. This year "turkey specials" are run from St. Louis. A year ago
one of these trains brought 32,000
birds for the local market.

Vast numbers of turkeys are raised in Missouri and Texas. The product of the latter state, where the birds
feed on sage and sunflower seeds, is highly regarded. According to reports, however, the output of both of these sections has been effectively cornered
this year.

Not Forgetting the Pumpkin Pie.

YANKS WIN ANOTHER STIFF SAILING RACE

The Esperanto a schooner of Gloucester, Mass., commanded by Capt.
"Marty" Welch, beat the Nova Scotian schooner Delawana in the second international series between the two rival fishermen. A cup and $4,- 000 were the fruits of the victory, which was attributed by Capt. Welch to a heavy wind which favored his vessel. The match, which covered a 40-mile course, was exciting up to the last. The Delawana put up a splendid fight.

In France all roads more than 33
feet wide must be lined with trees on each side.

GOVERNMENT PROFITEERING

When the postal savings act was passed two per cent was considered a just rate of interest on money deposited by the people. Now Uncle Sam invests the depositors' money in bonds bearing about five per cent,
thus clearing three per cent profit.
This is why the postal savings system has been able to boast a "profit"
of over a million and a half dollars a year. It is the children who are hit hardest, as the grown-ups know better than to put their money in such unprofitable securities. The government has set a bad example of profiteering in various ways, and the practice ought to be stopped.

INDIAN WIFE ASKS $250 MONTH ALIMONY

Colorado Springs, Col., Nov. 20.— Naming a white girl of this city as correspondent Mrs. Odell De Noya has filed suit for divorce from Wesley De Noya, both full-blooded Osage Indians. It is believed to be the first suit of its kind in the history of Colorado courts.

The pair were married in Winfield
Kan., in 1917.

In her suit Mrs. De Noya asks for $250 a month alimony, declaring that her husband's income from valuable oil lands in Oklahoma approximates
$1,000 per month.

The domestic difficulties of the Indian couple were first brought to public notice during the past summer

when Mrs. De Noya is said to have administered a severe drubbing to the correspondent named when she discovered her "vamping" the Redskin.

COURT CROWD SERVES AS JURY; ACQUITS MAN

Toledo, O., Nov. 20.—For the first time, it is said, in the history of local courts a Police Court judge today
passed ballots thru the court room
and asked the spectators to write the verdict on the slips of paper.

Of the thirty-four ballots twenty-seven were marked "not guilty." The prisoner, on trial for alleged bribery,
was declared not guilty by the judge,
James Austin.

Corn gathering is the order of the day on most farms the yield is very good but a great deal of the late planting is very sappy and will be hard to get dried out so it will keep.

Mr. Helton, of Dukehurst has bought a house and a few acres of land from W. A. Clark, of Sunnydale, and will move into same in the near future.

The new mast was raised at the oil wells Tuesday by Holbrook and Co., preparatory to cleaning out and shooting the wells after which Mr. Holbrook thinks he can produce oil in paying quantity.

Mr. Thomas Johnson, living on the farm of W. E. Baker, lost his house and almost all of his household goods by fire Wednesday morning. Mrs. Johnson being alone with a sick baby when the fire was discovered it gained good headway and very few of their household goods were saved. It was a total loss as there was no insurance.

LOUISVILLE MARKETS

Quotations were called $1.25 a hundredweight lower all thru the list at the Bourbon Stock Yards. The stamp took the price of best hogs, all weights, to $10.00, the lowest here in nearly four years and a decline of $13 a hundredweight from the high level touched last July.

General unsettlement in all livestock markets and lower quotations on feed grains and other commodities are given as the reasons for the continued losses in hog values. The undertone in the local market yesterday was weak and a further decline was considered not improbable. Receipts were 1,509 head.

Quotations: Best hogs 120 lbs. up $10.00; pigs 90 to 120 lbs., $9.50; 90 pounds down $8.00; throwouts $8.00 down.

Cattle at Low Level.

The cattle market continued drabgy at the lowest level of the season.

Market summary: Limited trade in butcher stock of all kinds. Canners and cutters slow; strong weight canners $3.00@3.25 down to $2.00@2.50 for lighter kinds. No change in bull values. Milch cow trade slow and uneven. Light inquiry from all sources for feeders and stockers of all descriptions; common trashy stockers badly neglected at the lowest prices this year. Weak trade in heavy steers and buyers backward about taking hold at sharp declines compared to a week ago.

Quotations: Prime heavy steers $9.00@10.00; heavy shipping steers $8.00@9.00; medium steers $7.00@8.00; light steers $5.50@7.00; fat heifers $5.00@8.25; fat cows $5.00@7.00; medium cows $4.00@5.00; cutters $3.25@4.00; canners $2.25@3.25; bulls $4.00@5.75; feeders $5.50@9.00; stockers $3.50@6.50; choice milch cows $85.00@100.00; medium $60.00@85.00; common $40@60.

Calves were unchanged in price. Receipts were 89 head. Market: Best veals $11.50@12.00; medium $6.00@9.00; common $4.00@5.00.

Sheep and Lambs Decline.

POWDER PLANT IS TO BE SACRIFICED

If the announced intention of the secretary of war is carried out the government stands to lose $96,000,000, or almost 96 per cent on its investment in the "Old Hickory" powder plant near Nashville, Tenn. It is proposed to sell it to a private company for $3,505,000. The government paid out $100,000,000 for this "war baby," and so far has recovered about $9,400,000 on the plant. Uncle Sam has 100,000,000 pounds of smokeless, non-explosive powder, or one-third of the army's total supply, stored there and it is estimated the powder is good for only 15 years. It is claimed that the cost of its removal in case the plant is sold would eat up much of the proceeds of the sale. The establishment includes about 5,000 acres of land and a complete city for a population of 20,000 people, with furnished houses, sidewalks, water, lights and other conveniences. Can you raise the bid?
